What do you get when you put together a six-foot-long loaf of french bread, a package of salami, several tomatoes, a couple of pounds of cheese, lettuce, mayonnaise, pickles, olives and 25 junior high school boys?

A six-foot-long Hero sandwich that lasts only five minutes.

This particular Hero was a class project made and eaten by the 25 boys in Francine Miller's bachelor survival class at Upland Junior High School.

Class members laid out the special loaf of bread and then assembly-line-style began piling on ham, salami, cheese, tomatoes, pickles, lettuce and olives.

When the six-foot sandwich had been divided into 25 fairly equal pieces, the pickle-haters and the

Upland EIR delayed

By Lynne Locke

An environmental impact review (EIR) of Upland's General Plan will not be completed, even in draft form, until mid-May, according to Owen Menard, Upland planning consultant.

A complete EIR is even farther from completion since state law requires public hearings and appeal periods, he told the council last week.

The City Council had hoped to have the study before considering several zone changes postponed from the March 15 meeting to the May 17 meeting.

Developers had told the council the delay would cause financial hardship, but a majority of the council voted to postpone the matters until the results of the EIR could be considered. The EIR will show affects on city services in Upland were completely developed in accordance with the General Plan.

Menard said the study is considerably more complex than expected since it combines an environmental impact study and a survey of citizen attitudes.

Lack of environmental information has been an additional problem, Menard said and noted Upland has never required an official EIR for any development in the city. "Upland doesn't have the kinds of data other cities have," he said.

Development proposed in Upland has always been consistent with the master plan so full environmental studies have not been required, according to City Manager Lee Travers.

The council could change the official title of the environmental study in order to cut the time needed to complete the study, Menard said and added, an "environmental study" would not require the same amount of time for hearings and appeals as an official EIR.

He also suggested the council consider low-density zone changes before the environmental study is complete and postpone only zone changes involving higher densities or large-scale development.

More complex than expected

City Attorney Donald Maroney discouraged the council from postponing the zone changes until the full study is completed. "I'd hate to hold (the zone changes) much more than 30 days more," he said.

"If we're going to have a moratorium, we'd probably better call it that. The city could get in really serious trouble if we talk in too much postponement without official action," he added.

The City Council has considered the northwest section of Upland to be the area most affected by current development, but Maroney also advised against postponing zone changes only in the northwest section.

"Picking and choosing areas is almost prejudging," he commented and suggested the council consider each postponement individually or set up postponement guidelines on the basis of whether the change would lower the density.

BIG SANDWICH — Mike Woodward (right), Stan Veal, Mark MacFarlane and Robby Padilla pile cheese, salami, and tomatoes on a six-foot-long Hero sandwich. The 25 members of a bachelor survival class at Upland Junior High School created and ate the sandwich as part of a unit on making nutritious lunches.

It was six-foot-long... while it lasted tomato-haters did some swapping. Then everyone settled down to steady eating and discovered just how wide a hero's mouth has to be.

Class projects such as the six-foot Hero are just one reason no one at Upland Junior High School teases the boys who take homemaking.

Mrs. Miller said the course name has also helped since "bachelor survival" sounds more interesting than homemaking. The class, which is new this semester, had a waiting list. But only the 50 boys in this semester's two classes will get to take bachelor survival.

The class will be phased out next year when all classes at the junior high school become coed. A similar class will be taught, under a new name, with both boys and girls learning the home skills necessary for adult life.

Creating the Hero sandwich was the highlight of a unit on nutritious sack lunches. During the section on foods and cooking the boys also studied food nutrients and learned how to plan balanced meals.

A breakfast unit included a consumer study of cereals as class members learned how to read labels for nutrition information. Other units in the food section will include outdoor cooking and desserts.

A forest ranger will demonstrate safety procedures in using outdoor cooking facilities, and class members will prepare foods suitable for backpack trips and barbecuing.

The dessert unit will emphasize simple desserts to accompany any meal. Other dessert lessons include easy-to-make desserts for camping and nutritious snacks.

During the first quarter of the bachelor survival class, students learned about clothes care such as washing, ironing and mending, as well as how to operate a sewing machine.

Highlights of the clothing unit were tie-dying shirts, pillow cases and material for bike bags. In the sewing unit the boys made bike bags from their tie-dyed material. Some also made chef aprons for the cooking unit.

Mrs. Miller said the boys have proved to be just as handy as the girls at both cooking and sewing. Some of the boys did creative work with iron-on patches and others learned to embroider designs, she noted.

Eight and Forty buys cookbooks

A special project of the San Bernardino County Salon 58 of Eight and Forty has been the purchase of special Cystic Fibrosis (CF) cookbooks for the use of parents whose children are patients at the Brian Wesley Ray Cystic Fibrosis Center at the San Bernardino County Medical Center.

Debbie Black of Cucamonga is the 1976 poster child for the CF Center. Mrs. John Brian, chapeau, and Cora Johnson, demi-chapeau, both of the salon, recently presented the special low-fat Cystic Fibrosis cookbooks to the center's dietitian, Laura Darnell, who in turn will give them to the mothers of children who are on special diets.

Salon 58 also is sponsoring the publication of a Cystic Fibrosis brochure which will be distributed to other organizations in an effort to promote the need for county-wide financial assistance. The brochure will contain some of the symptoms of CF and other lung-damaging diseases in children, agencies to call regarding these illnesses and other pertinent facts of interest, including treatment.

San Bernardino County Salon of Eight and Forty has for many years had CF as one of its service projects. Other projects include sending CF children to a special camp, purchase of needed equipment, medications and financial assistance.

Leona Cronk and Claudie Tyree, children and youth co-chairmen, delivered 25 filled Easter baskets to the center which were then distributed to children coming to the center for treatment.

Two fire officials

Two board members of the Foothill Fire Protection District have resigned leaving two vacancies that will be filled by appointment at the board's next meeting.

Chief Eugene Billings reported that Mikel Park and Eddie O. Smith resigned because they are moving to other areas.

Park has taken a job in San Luis Obispo at the fire department there. He previously worked for the Ontario Fire Department.

Smith has bought a home in Fontana, making him ineligible to serve on the board.

Billings reported the vacancies will be filled by appointment at the next regular board meeting on May 18, at 7 p.m. at the Cucamonga County Water District board room, 9641 San Bernardino Road.

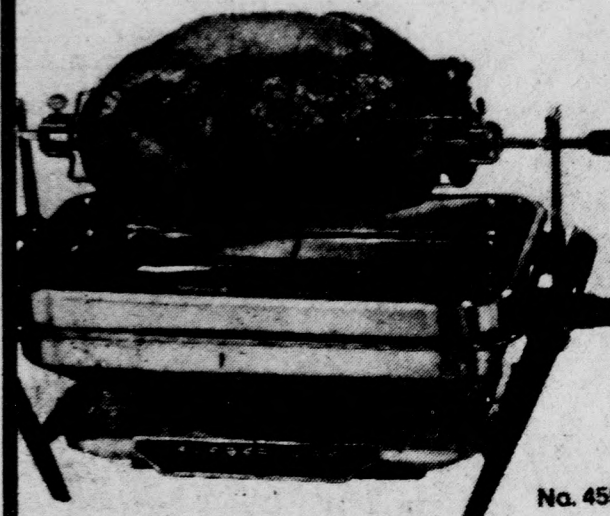

Persons interested in serving on the board until the next regular election to be held in November, 1977, should contact the fire district at P.O. Box 35, Alta Loma 91701, Billings said.

He indicated persons applying should be residents of the area and registered voters.

Duties of the board members include setting policies for the district. Billings described the board as like a city council but only concerned with matters directly relating to the fire district.

Task force starts job of identifying skill levels

A task force that Superintendent Allan G. Smith identified as the most important study group serving the Chaffey Union High School District in the last 10 years held its kickoff meeting on Wednesday.

The task force has been assigned by district trustees with the job of identifying educational competency levels in math and communication skills.

Furthermore, the task force will develop procedures or tests designed to measure those competency levels.

Superintendent Smith opened Wednesday's meeting with a brief statement that stressed the importance of the assignment. He also pledged the administration and school board's support for the task force.

One of the first priorities identified by the task force, chaired by Ulla Bauers, social studies teacher at Chaffey High School, is recruiting four additional citizen members for the study group. Currently, only one parent is on the task force.

The task force also has two students, three administrators, a former school board member who is representing the business community, two counselors and 10 teachers.

The task force is expected to present its recommendations by September. The development of competency measuring procedures in math and communication skills is expected to ultimately lead to the identification of minimum expected achievement levels in other academic areas.

Current task force members are Anne Henke, English teacher, Valley View High School; Dale Stevens, math teacher, Alta Loma High School; Audrey Shuler, English teacher, Alta Loma High School; Paul Sage, counselor, Chaffey High School; John M. Kunysz, student, Chaffey High School.

Ulla Bauers, social studies teacher, Chaffey High School; Dean Smothers, principal, Montclair High School; Ken Wright, parent and resident of Montclair; Sue Mallard, physical education teacher, Montclair High School; Jeff Paulus, math teacher, Mountain High School; Mary Moffatt, homemaking and arts and crafts teacher, Mountain High School.

Cal French, English department chairman, Upland High School; Marian Stark, English teacher, Upland High School; Betty Spears, assistant principal, Ontario High School; Marcialle Gans, science teacher, Ontario High School; JoAnn Weller, counselor, Upland High School; John Fleck, student, Upland High School; Robert Erickson, assistant district superintendent, and Jim Garliepp, former trustee and business community representative.

Officers picked

A dozen West End school boards selected board of trustee officers in recently-conducted elections.

The intra-board elections are an annual requirement of the California Education Code.

The board president chairs trustee meetings and is an occasional spokesperson for the board. The president, however, has only one vote and otherwise has the same formal power as other board members.

A listing of board presidents, whether they were elected or reelected, and second-ranking board members follows:

— Alta Loma: Nancy Kettle, president (reelected); Robert S. Frost, clerk.

— Central: Patton Lewis, president (reelected); Thomas B. Shoar, clerk.

— Chaffey Community College: Herschel R. Glenn, president (elected); Georgia Mellon, vice president.

— Chaffey Union: G. Adrian Chalfant, president (reelected); H. Jack Carnine, vice president.

— Cucamonga: David C. Hernandez, president (elected); Luis M. Gonzales, vice president.

— Ontario-Montclair: Richard H. Pearson, president (reelected); Samuel Di Giovanni, vice president.

Upland: Barry Brandt, president (elected); Dorothy H. Gibson, vice president.

Meals on Wheels needs volunteers

"There is a desperate need for volunteers to work for the Ontario-Upland Meals on Wheels program," according to Althea Correll, president of the three-year old organization.

When Meals on Wheels started, there were 15 individuals signed up to be served meals, and some 200 volunteers, Mrs. Correll explained. Today there are between 60 and 70 meals delivered five days a week, and volunteers have fallen off to about 100.

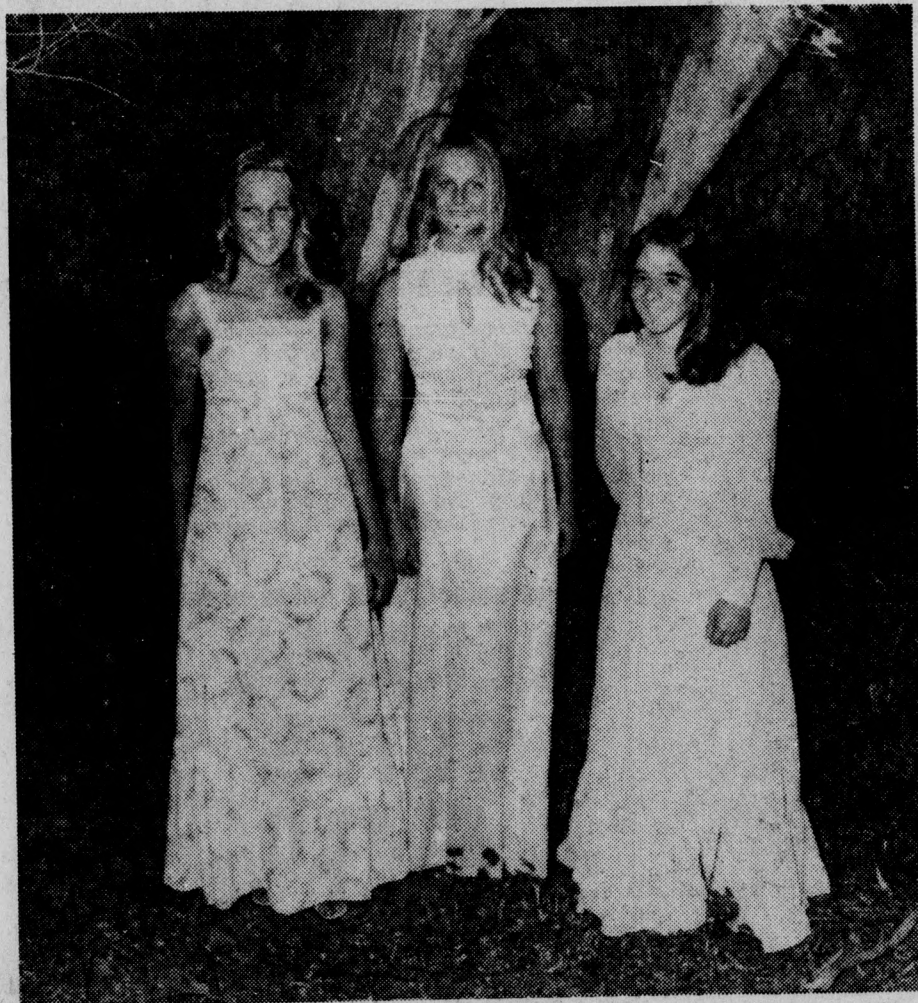

"This is a wonderful way for retired people to know that they are useful and needed," Mrs. Correll said. "We certainly would appreciate all the help we can get. Anyone interested is asked to call 981-2286 for more information."

Meals on Wheels delivers one hot meal a day, Monday through Friday, to men and women who are house bound or unable to shop and cook for themselves—or have no one to do these things for them. Meals on Wheels is not a charity because those who are served pay nearly the cost of the meals, but all those who are responsible for delivering the meals work without pay.

Volunteers often say the gratitude of the men and women who are making a last stand against hospitalization or who have been newly released from hospitals and are convalescing is ample recompensation for the two hours spent once a week or once in two weeks that they give to the service, Mrs. Correll said.

Meals on Wheels is completely dependent upon the volunteers for its operation. The crisis now of the need for volunteers is due to illnesses, age, removal and changes in family situations and these things, Mrs. Correll explained, go faster than the enlistment of new recruits.

"Had A Good Night's Sleep And Now I Feel More Tired"
By DR. W. P. HELZER, D.C.

Some people unintentionally mope around day after day, depressed without energy and lacking capacity to do a good day's work. More often than not they feel tired after a good night's sleep. Some even feel more tired following a complete night's rest.

What is such a person's problem? This is suffering from chronic fatigue. He doesn't necessarily know that's his problem. He may think he's suffering from nervousness.

However, he'll often self-criticize himself for feeling "lazy" but find that he can't seem to do anything about it. Whatever the cause, he'll always desire to regain the energy he knows he was once capable of.

A serious problem for persons suffering from chronic fatigue is the creeping side-effects of the difficulty. They become jittery and lose interest in their work. They may experience poor digestion and poor elimination. They often begin to have headaches and general aches and pains. And they may have attacks of dizziness and severe chest pains.

And, of course, as their condition deteriorates so does their bodily resistance to disease. Chronic fatigue, left untreated, could well be considered a one-way street to severe cases of insomnia and nervous breakdown.

In medical terminology, chronic fatigue can mean low blood sugar, low metabolism, poor bodily functions, chronic irritations to the nervous system or hypoglycemia. Sometimes chronic fatigue is caused through injury suffered in a home or auto accident.

You must remember, that the normal body possesses a comfortable margin of metabolic reserves. In normal fatigue brought on by long and arduous hours of mental and physical work, sufficient rest can restore the feeling of well-being.

But when rest doesn't restore the capacity for work, something is obviously wrong. Chronic fatigue can be caused through dietary deficiency or in endocrine imbalance. The physical state causing fatigue may also cause severe nervousness and both can be intermixed.

How is chronic fatigue relieved? The first step is to relieve the primary disorder. Proper bodily functions must be restored. Vital nerve energy must be allowed to flow freely through the body.

Then the patient must be helped to understand the source of his trouble and aided in resolving his difficulty.

Incidentally, few drugs, if any, increase energy without undesirable side-effects. For example, the amount of caffeine necessary to relieve fatigue usually increases nervousness.

In this modern day and age we constantly hear the phrase "with vigor." Yet for many, modern day stress and strain mean little more than trouble for many people.

That life is worth living doesn't have to be a pipe-dream. Of course, chronic fatigue, by its very nature is virtually bound to get worse before it gets better. But if sufferers would only muster the energy to seek effective diagnosis and treatment, a healthy vigorous life could be a reality for them.

'Song for a New World'

Pomona Valley Council of Churches, participating in the country's Bicentennial celebration, will offer the musical drama, "Song for a New World," written by Don Mueller, 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church, 1305 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario.

The play is codirected by Linda Walker Irby and Audrey Lightbody. Assisting with the production will be Al Grainger and Dorothy Roberson. This performance is free to all with a free will offering being received.

Christian Science

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Bible lesson-sermon at Christian Science services for 10 a.m. at 1439 N. Euclid, Ontario. The Scriptural text setting the theme for the service is from Deuteronomy: "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms."

"In common justice, we must admit that God will not punish man for doing what He created man capable of doing, and knew from the outset that man would do. God is of purer eyes than to behold evil" will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

The public is welcome to the Sunday service and the Wednesday testimonial meetings at 8 p.m.

Jehovah's Witnesses

The Cucamonga, Montclair, Claremont and Ontario congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses will attend a two-day convention Saturday and Sunday at the Norco Assembly Hall according to Kar Ban Leung of the Cucamonga congregation. The program is designed to aid in practical application of Bible principles to current problems, and is based on the theme "Become Doers of the Word." One of the main features of the assembly will be the Sunday morning baptism service conducted by J. H. Meyer of the Montclair congregation.

The public lecture scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday, "Are You Doing What God Requires of You?" will be delivered by Malcome L. Van Ike, representative of the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in Brooklyn, N.Y. All sessions are free. The public is invited.

Christian churches becoming involved

Responses to world hunger

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a three-part series about world hunger by Mark S. Bollwinkel, a doctor of ministry student at the School of Theology at Claremont, and program assistant for the Program On International Development Studies and Missions at the School of Theology. He is also Project Burning Bush intern-pastor at the First Presbyterian Church of Upland.

It became clear to me then, as it is becoming clear to many Southern California now, that the wealthy in the world are directly and indirectly involved with the poverty and hunger suffered by the majority of the world's population.

This realization means we can no longer blame hunger on laziness. No longer can we excuse world hunger by saying: "All they do is have babies" or "We give them so much and they just waste it."

Much of the means of our wealth is an obstacle to the development of the poor world. The causes of hunger, which include production of non-food crops, control of trade by developed countries, environmental exploitation, lack of leadership, Western ideas of aid and industrial growth, military expenditures, over-population and over-consumption, are not simply academic problems. They are deeply related to all of our lives.

This understanding leads many people into a state which Dr. C. Dean Freudenberger of the School of Theology at Claremont calls, "Paralysis or Pollyanna." People feel overwhelmed and guilty, so they give up or they respond with naive, simplistic responses such as giving money to send a few pounds of grain to feed the "starving millions."

Many Christian churches are beginning to experiment with responses in the four main areas of education, personal life-style, church or community organizational, and political responses. These are the beginnings of our meaningful responses.

Before we can respond we must know what we are doing. Tons of sorghum and maize were sent to starving people, mostly children, in Africa during 1973, but the food was undigestible (Con'd on back page)

Women plan fashion show

"Christian Women Spirit of '76" is the theme for a luncheon and fashion show 11:30 Saturday at Upland First Presbyterian Church, Hart Fellowship Hall.

The theme will be reflected in fashions of the present, furnished by Atwoods Department Store of Upland, as well as garments from the trucks and attics of church members, according to event coordinator Margaret Day.

Luncheon tables will feature fashion dolls in a variety of costumes, hand-sewn by members of the Women's Association, which is sponsoring the event. Proceeds will support mission projects and President Marge Alvarez' attendance at the summer national meeting of the United Presbyterian Women.

Assisting with the luncheon and fashion show are Arline Jones, narrator; Lois Barnard, luncheon; Jane Sato, greeter; and Maxine Sauers, decorations.

Others are Betty Wilson, posters and program artwork; Lynne Youngstrum, program and door prizes; Elaine Bell, models; Elinor Wilding, musical accompaniment; Kathy Christian, tickets; and Emmie Smith and Betty Wilson, publicity.

Lucy Moore, who is in charge of the clothing from the past, will model her own 1941 wedding gown. Roberta Ransom, Sarah Richardson, Mary Harrison and Loucille Webster also will model clothing from the past.

Other models include Donna Cunningham and daughter Jennifer, Mercy Zemba and Christy, Marjorie McCarter, Alida Lillibridge, Gladys Flum, Elaine Bell and Leslie, Barbara Gillogly, Catherine Photos, and Audrey Holme. Also Julie Emrich, Christy Smith, Ed and Grace Hamilton, Robert Gillogly, Ron and Christie Burns, Mark Bollwinkel, Bud Christian, Ian Richardson, Bob Kitchell and Howard Kilmurray.

Children include Scotty Kirk, Kimber Miller, Brad Holton, Kathryn Olander, and Jill, Janet and Julie Richardson.

Tickets, with a special price for children under 12, are available at the church office, (714) 982-8811.

Local volunteers to work in Guatemala

Two local men joined a six-man volunteer team sent by the denomination of the Church of the Brethren and Church World Service to Guatemala for a one-month period to aid the victims of the Feb. 4 earthquake.

Milan Rupel, of La Verne, and David A. Glasa of Azusa left Monday from Los Angeles International Airport and flew directly to Guatemala City.

Church World Service, the relief agency of the National Council of Churches of Christ, will assign the team specific projects, mainly construction of shelter areas for those left homeless.

Rupel is a captain for the Los Angeles County Fire Department and is assigned to the dispatching center in El Monte. He is a member of the La Verne Church of the Brethren and is the church's treasurer and a past church board chairman. He is married and has three children.

Glasa, a student at La Verne College, is active in the drama and music departments. He is employed as a carpenter for a construction firm.

Health Tips

Marriage problems?

HEALTH TIPS: Health Tips is a column of the California Medical Education and Research Foundation, prepared and edited by physician members of the California Medical Association. It is reprinted by this newspaper as a public service.

The romantic notion that marriage is always free of trouble and that the partners in a healthy marriage live happily ever after is a product of unrealistic novels, television stories and movies. Actually, marriages, like all other human relationships, are often beset by strain and difficulty. Those couples who work at solving the problems are likely to have more stable marriages; those who do not or cannot, find themselves getting into more and more difficulty.

Family physicians and psychiatrists are familiar with some of the warning signals of a troubled marriage. Five common signs are:

—Bottling up feelings and resentments that ought to be talked out. The husband and wife may harbor minor grudges, suspicions and resentments which snowball into major proportions. Effective communication is the essence of marital satisfaction.

—Lack of agreement about family decisions, including finances. One partner makes a major decision about family life without consulting the other. Family decisions require mutual discussion and compromise.

—Sexual dysfunction. It has often been said that every unhappy marriage has a serious sexual problem. Sexuality is always complicated and sometimes difficult to discuss. However, the vast majority of sexual problems would not occur if husbands and wives could talk with one another about sex.

—Unfaithfulness may occur spontaneously or it may be the result of one partner feeling neglected. It should be discussed and examined — and not made an automatic reason for divorce.

—One partner becomes clinically depressed or withdrawn. Mental disorder is not always due to a marital problem, but it may be precipitated by problems in the marriage.

It is important to remember that no marriage stays the same. There is a natural developmental progression and expected change. The newlywed couple are in the process of working out a relationship. Many changes occur when children are born. There are still more problems (and changes) when the children become teenagers and when they leave home. The "empty nest" requires serious readjustment of marriage relationships. The same applies to retirement of one or both partners. To expect change and to anticipate a different kind of relationship at different times in marriage is realistic.

What should be done when there is trouble in the marriage?

Self-help techniques are the beginning. Improve communication — talk with each other about the problems. Don't make rapid decisions or off-the-cuff accusations. Sleep on the problem in order to get a little perspective.

Sometimes self-help is not enough. The family physician is an excellent point of first contact. It is important to seek medical advice initially since the problems within the marriage may have a biological basis which the physician is best suited to diagnose. In addition, your physician generally knows about ethical and competent marriage therapists which allows him of her to serve as an excellent point of referral.

In marriage therapy, the counselor may see the couple together or alone.

Many marriage therapists (especially those with medical training such as a family physician or a psychiatrist) have found it advantageous to see couples jointly instead of individually. Specific circumstances usually dictate which course of action is best, but the joint interviews have been used more and more frequently.

Dog allergies treatable

By Robert L. Stear
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories

Allergies, such as hay fever, asthma and skin rashes, have been widely recognized and treated in humans for decades. But only in recent years have the same symptoms been identified with canine discomfort. Allergies in dogs show up on the skin as welts and lesions, in the intestinal tract as diarrhea and vomiting, in the head and other parts of the body as hive-like swellings, and in the nasal passages in excessive sneezing and running eyes. The causes of these allergic reactions are as varied as the symptoms. Foods, certain insects, vegetation and pollens are a few of the agents. So are house dusts, floor polish, nylon rugs, chicken feathers, cat hair and tobacco. Dogs that are allergic to trees, grasses and pollens will have more difficulty during warm weather. Dietary allergies are some of the most difficult for a veterinarian to treat. Just like humans, many dogs are not able to assimilate all foods. Some develop colitis, an intestinal inflammation, when given dog food. With other dogs, the simplest deviation from their normal diet will produce chronic diarrhea and a continuous growling of the intestines. Hypersensitivity to flea bites is another fairly common allergic reaction. A flea bite produces intense itching, and violent scratching can result in skin injuries and possibly even secondary infection. Dogs suffering from skin eruptions, such as hives, often have tremendous swelling around the head, particularly around the eyes and mouth, with severe itching. Hives are usually the result of an allergy to food.

The Town Crier

To help citizens of Upland better understand their city's responsibilities and services and to get answers on city government, John Shoemaker, Upland community relations coordinator, is bringing City Hall to the people through the courtesy of the Upland News. The column "The Town Crier" is designed to be informative on all issues of city government.

To reach "The Town Crier," write: Community Relations, City of Upland, 460 N. Euclid Ave., Upland, CA 91786. Persons should include their name, address and telephone number. Only initials will be listed in the column.

QUESTIONS: Is there any place in Upland where we can take glass bottles and newspapers? G.B.W.

ANSWER: There are two centers where you may leave glass bottles and newspapers. The Upland Kiwanis Club has a center on the southeast corner of D Street and Third Avenue. The Presbyterian Church Youth have a center on the southwest corner of Second Avenue and Stowell Street.

QUESTION: Can you tell our civic class the duties of the administrative specialist?

ANSWER: Upland's administrative specialist is Michael Matlock. Under administrative direction he conducts studies of administrative concerns and problems; drafts recommendations for changes in organization, policies, procedures and operational practices; coordinates the implementation of new and revised administrative procedures; prepares and revises procedural manuals; assists in the gathering of data and writing of various reports on city services and activities; assists department heads in the review and resolution of problems relating to organization and management; provides information on administrative policies and procedures of the city manager's office to department personnel and the public; may assist in preparation and administration of the annual budget through the compilation and analysis of departmental request; reviews support data, handles preliminary budget negotiations and reviews department expenditures for possible spending over budget; confers with representatives of public and private organizations on city problems, programs and operation; reviews proposed and adopted laws, rules and regulations for possible effects of city operations, and prepares recommendations for necessary operational changes or advises concerned city departments.

QUESTION: Why do you think we have had such a tremendous increase in residential burglaries? H.A.

ANSWER: It is known that crime is increasing faster in the suburbs than in the large cities. This has happened partly because single family homes are more prone to burglaries than a community in which the homes are closer together and the population density much higher. Secondly, 50 per cent of our residential burglaries are drug related. The drug user needs money in a hurry for his or her supply of drugs, and by committing a residential burglary and obtaining property can dispose of the property for about one 10th of its value and have the money to purchase drugs.

Homemade crepes are handy

It's a myth — that crepes are complicated to make and can be mastered only by experienced cooks.

This is not so, of course. Crepes are nothing more than a thin delicate pancake. Wholesome milk, melted butter, eggs and flour make a light batter. It takes less than 2 minutes to make each crepe but they do have to be baked singly, unless you have two pans going at the same time. Make the crepes ahead of time and store them in the refrigerator stacked and enclosed in foil or plastic wrap. Once you get into the crepe habit you'll probably wonder why you didn't try them before. They can be served for any meal with many kinds of fillings — savory or sweet.

Crepes a la Jack
1 large onion, chopped
1/4 pound mushrooms, sliced
1 medium clove garlic, minced

Ways to prepare most fish

Convenience in cooking is what every busy cook and working homemaker seeks in planning the family's weekly menus.

Unlike meat or poultry, fish is never cooked to tenderize it, but rather is cooked to bring out its delicate flavor and to make its protein easier to digest.

Here are some quick tips for the most common methods of preparing frozen fish and seafood conveniently and easily.

Pan Frying — Thaw frozen fillets and pat dry. Season lightly and roll fish in a mixture of flour and cracker meal or cornmeal. Coat bottom of heavy skillet with oil or shortening, and fry fish over moderate heat until browned on both sides. Thickness of fish will determine frying time, but it is generally eight to 10 minutes.

Deep Fat Frying — Fill half of a deep kettle with fat and heat to 350 degrees. Place a single layer of small fish portions or fillets in a wire frying basket and lower basket gently into kettle to prevent excess bubbling. Fry until golden brown, usually three to five minutes.

Baking — Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Place thawed fish fillets or steaks on greased baking pan. Season fish lightly and brush with butter, oil or sauce. Bake 15 to 25 minutes, depending on size and thickness of fish, or until fish flakes easily. Fish may be baked during broiling.

Broiling — Brush fish with butter or oil, then place a single layer on well-greased broiler rack. Since broiling heat is direct and intense, keep fish three to four inches from heat. Baste well with shortening or sauce during broiling to keep fish moist. Thicker portions and whole fish should be turned half way through the broiling period. Allow five to 10 minutes to cook if fish is thawed, and 10 to 15 minutes if frozen.

Poaching — Place a single layer of thawed fillets in a wide, shallow frying pan or skillet. Barely cover fish with poaching liquid, such as lightly seasoned water, milk or court bouillon. Bring liquid to a boil, reduce heat and simmer until fish flakes easily, usually five to 10 minutes. For court bouillon: To water add lemon juice or white wine, salt, white pepper, bay leaf, thyme, coarsely chopped celery, onions and carrots.

Steaming — Use a steam pot cooker or a deep pot with a wire rack and tight fitting lid. Pour about two inches of water, plain or seasoned, in the pot and bring to a rapid boil. Place thawed fish on rack or in basket, making sure fish stays above water level. Cover pot tightly and allow steam to cook fish for five to 10 minutes.

Planking — Oil plank or board and heat slowly in oven. Arrange thawed fish on warmed plank, season lightly and brush with butter or oil. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven until fish flakes easily.

3 tablespoons butter
2 (10-ounce) packages frozen chopped spinach
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon margarine
Homemade Crepes
1 pint dairy sour cream
3/4 pound monterey jack cheese, grated (3 cups)
Minced parsley

Saute onion, mushrooms and garlic in butter until tender. Thaw and drain spinach, squeezing very dry. Combine spinach, salt, pepper and marjoram with onion mixture. Spread crepes on counter and divide spinach mixture into centers. Fold in sides of each crepe and roll crepe around filling. Place seam side down in baking dish or platter. Season sour cream with a little additional salt and pepper to taste. Spoon over crepe rolls. Sprinkle with cheese and parsley. Bake uncovered in 350 degree oven 35 minutes or until hot through and light golden on top. Makes 4 servings.

Homemade Crepes: Beat together or whir in electric blender 1 cup milk, 1 egg, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 2/3 cup flour. Melt 1 tablespoon butter in 7-inch crepe pan or skillet and beat into batter. To bake crepes, pour a scant 1/4 cup batter in pan and tilt to coat bottom. Bake about 1 minute over medium high heat until golden. Turn and bake for 30 seconds. Crepes may be made ahead, stacked, wrapped in foil and refrigerated a day or so until needed. Makes 8 crepes.

This particular delicious looking dish is Crepes a la Jack made with homemade crepes, frozen spinach, sour cream and jack cheese, along with spices and flavoring. Super good and so easy to do when crepes are handy in refrigerator.

Local residents are invited to participate in all Poly Vue events (see schedule of events below) which include a crafts fair, pancake breakfast, barbecue, beef sale, carnival and dances, alumni vs. varsity football game, spring sing, and an international dinner and talent show.

Academic exhibits will feature small block powder charges, the functioning of exploration seismic equipment, Bicentennial display of pest control during the last 2,000 years, petting zoo, egg drop and paper airplane contests, and a nine-hole putting course.

In addition, local college, community college and high school students will gather for the 16th annual Business Skills Contest, the western regional conference of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and Communications Day.

"1776"

All the familiar and revered characters out of the colonial history books — John and Abigail Adams, Thomas and Martha Jefferson, Ben Franklin, John Hancock, and others in the cast of real persons who played essential parts in the events leading up to the signing of the Declaration of Independence, will be on stage at the university theater in a one-night only presentation of the Broadway musical hit, "1776" 8 p.m. Friday.

The Continental Theatre Company of Wichita, Kansas, in cooperation with the Masque and Mime Theatre Foundation of New York, will present the well-known historic musical.

Described by "New York Times" reviewer Clive Barnes as "a most striking, most gripping musical... with style, humanity, wit, and passion... consistently exciting and entertaining," "1776" portrays the delegates to the Continental Congress meeting in Philadelphia during June of that famous year, not as painted heroes, but as real people — sometimes quarrelsome, sometimes stubborn and vain, yet rising to the greatness of when the occasion required it.

Tickets are $5.

"Guns"

"Guns," a new three-act musical for children which brings guns "to life" onstage in an attempt to give a better understanding about weapons, will be presented by the Improvisational Theatre Projects of the Center Theatre Group/Mark Taper Forum 11 a.m. Saturday, in the university theater.

No admission will be charged, but reservations are necessary.

Billed as a play for audiences 10 years and older, "Guns" takes place in 2076 AD at a national zoo where six of the most famous guns in captivity are on display. (Guns have been outlawed for 90 years.) They sing, dance and perform special tricks, but refuse to be called killers, because none of them has actually seen a killing. When they seek their freedom from the gun house, they learn more about themselves and their power.

For reservations call (714) 598-4546 or (714) 598-4549.

"Cop Out"

Two one-act plays, "Cop Out" and "Petrified Man," presented by the Cal Poly Drama Department will run Poly Vue weekend in the Cal Poly Studio Theatre. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Horse Show

The Cal Poly intercollegiate and open horse show will be held 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. Saturday. Judging the show will be Rusty Paris of the American Horse Show Association. The show will be held in the W. K. Kellogg Arabian Horse Center. Admission is free.

Students from five universities and colleges will compete in the show's 25 classes. The various classes include English, western, jumping and equitation — where a rider's ability is the key point in winning the class.

Rodeo

Bareback bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and more wild sports events will be part of the semifinals of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association (NIRA) rodeo 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Nearly 150 contestants from most of the 33 colleges and universities in the West Coast region of the NIRA will be represented at this 14th annual Poly Vue rodeo.

Theater staff named

Foothill Productions, an organization which offers local young people the opportunity to work in the musical theatre under the leadership of top professionals, has announced the production staff for its Bicentennial musical comedy, "Damn Yankees."

Myrl A. Schreiber, production coordinator, said the staff is composed of professionals who have contributed to past successful productions and who are returning this year after finding their previous experiences working with local young people to be rewarding.

"Damn Yankees" will be directed by Robert Dunkerly, who directed Foothill Productions' "The Music Man" last year, and "L'il Abner" in 1974. Dunkerly is a professional actor who holds a master's degree in theatre.

Stephen Engle, local composer and choral director, will lend his talents as vocal director this summer as he did for "Music Man." Rounding out the trio of returning professional talent is Gabriel Petrocelli, music director at Emerson Junior High School in Pomona.

"MAN OF LA MANCHA" — Sancho (played by David Bushner of Pasadena) looks to heaven for help when Don Quixote (Ed deathead in Valley Community Theatre's performance of "Man of La Mancha," playing 8:30 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays through June 12 at the VCT, 132 E. Third St., Pomona. For tickets call (714) 822-6854.

Shakespeare festival scheduled

A Shakespeare festival will be a dramatic highlight of PolyVue—California State Polytechnic University, Pomona's annual open house Friday through Sunday, April 30—May 2. The public is invited to attend the competitive event sponsored by the university's department of English and Modern Languages Saturday, May 1 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., with a break for lunch at noon.

Richard Bach to talk

Richard Bach, celebrated author of "Jonathan Livingston Seagull," screenwriter, producer-director of a new motion picture will star in the "Spirit of Flight" film festival to be held May 22 and 23 in the Claremont Playhouse in Griswold's Old Schoolhouse Convention Center, Claremont.

Bach will present his recently producer-unscreened film "Nothing by Chance," based upon his book of the same title. Bach will be scheduled to interact with the audience in his dynamic informal dialogue approach that has made him a lecturer star in recent years.

The "Spirit of Flight" Film Festival will be an all-day affair in entertainment of the Best Aviation Film Productions of 1975. More than just motion pictures, the producers, directors, and stars are cast in a program of lecture-dialogue with the participating audience in definitely a unique one-time experience for those lucky enough to get one of the limited tickets of this regal gathering of eagles. Art Scholl, Hollywood stunt pilot, world aerobatic ace and film producer will screen his "North to Canada" in its fall length. Mira Slovak, "The Poor Refugee" who escaped from behind the Iron Curtain in 1953 will screen his "Freedom Flight," the story of his life in the air with dramatic use of musical scoring, light and special effects. Other special subjects, shown neither on R.V., theatre or to the general public, will be presented in this festival format with each accompanied by its producer in lecture style.

For ticket information call (213) 722-3142.

Cast announced

The cast for "The Music Man," Meredith Willson's hit musical, has been announced by Donald Brinegar, director of music at Claremont United Methodist Church. The show will be presented in the Seeley G. Mudd Theatre at the School of Theology at Claremont, May 7 at 8 p.m., May 8 at 2:30 and 8 p.m., and May 9 at 2:30 p.m.

Over 60 young people will be involved in acting, singing, dancing and technical production. All are members of the church youth groups and choirs which sing weekly for the Sunday worship services.

Heading the cast are Rod Gilfray as the "Music Man" Harold Hill, Liz Estupinian as Marian ("The Librarian") Paroo, Dave Tipping as Mayor Shinn, Pat Graham as Eulaie MacKecknie Shinn, Dave Ardrey as Marcellus Washburn and Vicki Schurman as Mrs. Paroo.

Also in the cast are Robyn Allen, Craig Allen, Ed Bratt, Mark Estupinian, Sarah Cadman, Lynn Dallas, Judy Devens, Kathy Dickinson, Tim Dickinson, Jennifer Elder, Nancy Gallagher, Dan Gutierrez, Claire Getts, Carol Graham, Joanne Hall, Beth Havens, Christi Kilsby, Richard Kilsby, Tim Kirk, Lisa Metzler, Ann Robertson, Marci Schurman, Neal Shamon, Sally Shannon, Stu Stoddard, Rolf Weidhofer and Scott Wray.

The entire production is directed by Donald Brinegar. Choreographer is Pat Pilkington, who created the dances for the choir's previously highly successful productions of "The Boyfriend" and "Anything Goes."

Ice Capades review

Entertaining...disappointing

By Lynne Locke
 The 36th annual Ice Capades at the Los Angeles Sports Arena is a treat for those who love the pageantry of large-scale productions.

But the two-hour show is somewhat of a disappointment for those who expect Olympics-style figure skating.

The show includes several spectacular numbers with music, beautiful costumes and elaborate backgrounds, but there is too little of the leaps and spins that are the marks of the world's best figure skaters.

The performance of Johnny Johns and Melissa Militano is completely satisfying although far too brief. The 1974 and 1975 U.S. Champion Pair skate in perfect harmony whether sweeping across the ice or performing spins and lifts.

The highlights of their performance are perfectly performed triple split twist and throw double axel. In the twist Melissa completes three revolutions in air before being caught by her partner. In the axel Johnny throws her into 2 1/2 revolutions and she lands spinning on the ice.

But the style of the Ice Capades seems to trivialize the feats which are so exacting they are performed by only four pairs in the world. The loud music seems out of place as a background to the pair's skating which should be accompanied by hushed attention.

Fans of Olympics competition will miss the sound of skates on ice and audience applause, both drowned by the continuous music.

The production's adagio (dance-type) pair Peter Gordon and Barbara Wilson also provide some excellent

JoJo Starbuck, 1970-72 U.S. Pair Champion with Ken Shelley, is a disappointment as the featured skater in a couple of lightweight production numbers — one of which (Gym and Ice Tricks exercise routine) is the least interesting item on the program.

Comedy routines were clearly the audience's favorite parts of the evening. Some truly skilled skating is presented as part of a drunk act, a Scotsman routine, and a surprise interruption to a pairs adagio number.

Yogi Bear's birthday party complete with 16 life-sized cartoon characters was the highlight of the evening for youngsters who crowded at rinks to greet Yogi and his friends.

Both children and adults applauded the tricks of ice juggler Albert Lucas whose act concluded with hugging three fiery torches.

Beautifully costumed and spectacularly included an Oriental love story, a chorus line of "Golden Girls," and a Bicentennial parade with a double surprise ending.

Over-all the program is more enjoyable for the family out for some good entertainment than for the purist whose main interest is Olympic-style figure skating. The Ice Capades will be at the Los Angeles Sports Arena through May 9.

Sculpture competition attracts 500

More than 500 entries have been received by the Los Angeles Department of Airports in its state-wide sculpture competition being conducted as a special salute to the nation's Bicentennial celebration.

"Flight" is the general theme of the competition which was limited to sculptors residing in California. Artists were required to submit models, drawings or photographs of their works, and entries utilizing wood, metal, stone, wire, glass, and a variety of other materials have poured in from every corner of the state.

Prizes offered in the competition include a $1,000 first prize, a $750 second prize and a $500 third prize. Also the department can provide up to $50,000 for commissioning of several of the works for display at Los Angeles International Airport.

ICE CAPADES — Sarah Kawahara performs an interpretative ballet in the Ice Capades production, "The Story of Tsing-Tsu" playing through May 9 at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

SECTION 3-1.201. HYPNOTIST TO CODE. Article 2 of Chapter 3 of Title 3 of the Montclair Municipal Code is hereby amended by adding Subsection (af) to Section 3-1.201 to read as follows:

(af) Hypnotists, Licenses required: Taxes. Any person, firm, or organization engaged in the practice of hypnosis for the purpose of self-improvement, personal counseling, behavior modification, or any other form of therapy or treatment — either medical or psychological — or any person practicing hypnosis for exhibition or entertainment purposes shall secure a business license and pay the following business license tax:

(1) For the first practicing hypnotist or professional member of a firm for gross receipts under Twenty-Five Thousand and no/100ths ($25,000) Dollars per year, Thirty-Eight and no/100ths ($38.00) Dollars per year;

(2) For the first practicing hypnotist or member of a firm for gross receipts in excess of Twenty-Five Thousand and no/100ths ($25,000) Dollars per year, Seventy-Five and no/100ths ($75.00) Dollars per year;

(3) For each additional practicing hypnotist or professional member of a firm other than a salaried employee, Thirty-Eight and no/100ths ($38.00) Dollars per year;

(4) For each nonprofessional salaried employee of a firm or employees other than the above, Four and 50/100ths ($4.50) Dollars per year; and

(5) Requirements for licenses. No license will be granted to an individual or firm for the practice of hypnosis, unless such individual or firm agrees to apply for and obtain a permit in compliance with the following provisions:

(i) Applications. Applicants for permits shall file with the License Official a sworn application in writing on a form to be furnished by the License Official, which shall give the following information:

(aa) The full name and permanent home address of the applicant and the full address of a regularly established place of business within the City;

(ab) A brief description of the purposes for which the applicant's hypnotic techniques will be utilized;

(ac) If the individual or firm is a subsidiary of a larger organization, the name and address of such organization, the names of officers, and, if incorporated, a copy of the articles of incorporation of the firm;

(ad) Evidence that each practicing hypnotist in the firm has a photograph and fingerprints on file with the Police Department of the City;

(ae) A statement as to whether or not each practicing hypnotist or member of the firm has been convicted of any felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude or any other crime or violation involving fraud or misrepresentation, specifically but not exclusively as it regards the practice of hypnosis, the nature of any such offense, and the punishment or penalty assessed therefor;

(af) A statement and certification, where possible, of the training and experience of each practicing hypnotist; professional or amateur societies of which each is a member — including full name (not initials) and addresses of main offices; and no fewer than three professional references who can attest to the moral character and professional competence of the applicant; and

(ag) A statement regarding specific methods of advertising to be used in connection with the practice of hypnosis, and a sworn statement attesting to the fact that misleading claims, titles, degrees, or other statements which misrepresent the qualifications, credentials, or capabilities of the practicing hypnotist will not be utilized.

At the time of filing the application, a fee of Ten and no/100ths ($10.00) Dollars per practicing hypnotist shall be paid to the License Official to cover the cost of the investigation of the facts stated therein. Such administrative fees shall not be refundable.

(ii) Investigation and issuance.

(aa) Applications for permits to practice hypnosis shall be referred to the Chief of Police who shall cause such investigation of the applicant's business and moral character to be made as he deems necessary for the protection of the public good.

(ab) If, as a result of such investigation, the applicant's moral character or professional competence is found to be unsatisfactory, or if evidence of false or misleading advertising is discovered, the Chief of Police shall forward his disapproval of the application and reasons for such disapproval to the License Official who shall so notify the applicant;

(ac) If, as a result of such investigation, the applicant's moral character and professional competence are found to be satisfactory and no evidence of false or misleading advertising is discovered, the Chief of Police shall forward his approval of the application to the License Official who, upon receiving evidence of satisfactory compliance with other City ordinances and regulations and approval of the application from remaining City departments, shall issue a permit and license to conduct the practice of hypnosis.

(iii) Revocation of licenses or permits.

(aa) Permits and licenses issued under the provisions of this section may be revoked by the Council after a hearing following a notice from a court, judge, or the Chief of Police of the following:

(1) Misrepresentation, or a false statement contained in the application for a permit or license;

(2) Misrepresentation, or false statements made in advertising for the business;

(3) Misrepresentation, or false statements made in the course of conducting the business; and

(4) Conviction of any crime or misdemeanor or felony;

(ab) Notice of hearing for the revocation of a license or permit shall be given in writing, setting forth specifically the grounds of complaint and the time and place of the hearing. Such notice shall be mailed, postage paid, to the licensee at his last known address at least five (5) days prior to the date set for the hearing.

(iv) Appeals. Any person aggrieved by the action of the Chief of Police or License Official in the denial of a permit or license as provided in Subsection (ii) of this subsection shall have the right to appeal to the City Council. Such appeal shall be taken by filing with the Council within fourteen (14) days after notice of the action complained of has been mailed to such person's last known address a written statement setting forth fully the grounds for appeal. The Council shall set a time and place for hearing such appeal, and a notice of such hearing shall be given to the appellant in the same manner as provided in Subsection (iii) of this subsection for notice of hearing on a revocation. The decision and order of the Council on such appeal shall be conclusive and final.

(v) Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of this subsection shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not to exceed Five Hundred and no/100ths ($500.00) Dollars, or by imprisonment in the City or County jail not to exceed six (6) months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

SECTION II. PUBLICATION. The City Clerk of the City of Montclair shall cause this ordinance to be published in the Montclair Tribune at least once within fifteen (15) days after its passage.

Special baking

Butter gives this chocolate cake flavor

Professional bakers advise all cooks to begin with the finest ingredients available. Like fresh creamery butter, milk and whipping cream, dairy basics for most any cake making. When it comes to distinctive flavor and fine texture there is just no substitute for real butter. The creaming or beating of butter with sugar is an important factor, too, in the lightness of a finished cake.

Other popular cakes are made with yogurt, sour cream and butter-milk. These carefully cultured, tangy products are often used for some or all of the liquid in a cake formula to produce slight and delicious variations in the flavor, texture and moistness.

A favorite tried and true recipe should be used as creatively as possible. Here we've done two glamorous looking desserts from a basic and delicious chocolate butter cake. The decorative bars have a "candy shop" finish of butterscotch icing and the multilayered torte is lavish with whipped cream and chocolate curls. Begin with a dairy enriched recipe like this one, and the results are bound to be extra special!

For nutritious refreshment straight from the carton, milk is the most popular beverage of all. Choose from homogenized, butter-milk, chocolate milk, low fat milk and more — there's milk for every taste and every purpose.

Special Chocolate Cakes

1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
2 eggs
2 cups flour

2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk

Melt chocolate over hot water. Cool. Beat together butter and sugar. Beat in vanilla, eggs and melted chocolate. Stir in flour mixed with baking powder and salt, alternately with milk. Bake batter as follows for bars or torte.

Frosted Chocolate Bars

Pour batter into greased 13x9x2-inch baking pan. Bake in 350-degree oven 25 minutes or until done. Cool 15 minutes. Gently invert onto wire rack. Cool. Spread with warm Butterscotch Frosting. Cool. Melt 1 ounce unsweetened chocolate over hot water. Drizzle over frosting in parallel lines. Pull knife through frosting, perpendicular to lines, to get decorative effect. Makes 32 bars.

Butterscotch Frosting: Melt 6 tablespoons butter. Stir in 2 tablespoons milk and 1/2 cup brown sugar (packed). Boil gently 1 minute. Beat in 1 1/2 cups powdered sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla, continuing until smooth.

Chocolate Torte

Pour batter into 4 (9-inch) round cake pans greased then dusted with cocoa. Bake in 350-degree oven 15 minutes or until done. Cool 10 minutes then gently invert onto racks. Cool. Whip 2 cups whipping cream with 1/4 cup sugar until stiff. Stack cake layers with cream between layers and on top. Garnish with chocolate curls. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

All soups know no season

Soups know no season. A spinach and dill soup is a variation of one which Turkish cooks are at home with. It is easily prepared, taking about 12 minutes total cooking time and relies on the use of lots of dill, plus spices with lemon. A soup that takes more cooking time but also is inspired by a national tradition is the Scandinavian "storm soup." Many might call it a split pea soup.

Turkish Spinach And Dill Soup
1 can (10 1/2 ounces each) condensed chicken broth
1 soup can water
2 teaspoons instant chopped onion
2 teaspoons parsley flakes
2 teaspoons dill weed
1/16 teaspoon ground white pepper
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach
1 1/2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon lemon juice
In a large saucepot bring broth, water, onion, parsley flakes, dill weed and white pepper to boiling point. Add spinach. Simmer, covered, for 5 minutes. In a small saucepan melt butter. Add flour, cook and stir for one minute. Blend in about one-half cup of the soup mixture. Then return all to large saucepot. Cook and stir until mixture boils and thickens, about 3 minutes. Combine egg yolks with lemon juice; blend with a little of the soup mixture. Return all to saucepot; heat but do not boil. Serve hot. Makes 4 portions (about 1 quart).

Storm Soup
4 cups chicken broth
2/3 cup dried green split peas
1 medium onion, chopped
2 cups chopped baked or broiled ham
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
3 medium potatoes, diced
3 medium-size carrots, sliced
In a heavy kettle combine chicken broth, peas, onion, ham, salt and pepper. Place over high heat and bring to a boil. Cover and simmer over low heat for 1 hour, stirring occasionally. Add potatoes and carrots and continue to simmer for 20 minutes or until the carrots and potatoes are soft. Makes 6 servings.

Responses to world hunger (Concluded) because the people were so malnourished. Finding out the facts and figures of world hunger and knowing what they mean must be the first effort in responding to the problem.

Resources in this area include, "Bread for the World" by Arthur Simon and "Christian Responsibility in a Hungry World" by Dr. C. Dean Freudenberger and Dr. Paul Minus.

For more detailed information, write to Overseas Development Council or World Watch Institute, both in Washington, D.C. Resources are available to help local churches, synagogues or community colleges conduct introductory classes on world hunger.

Yet knowledge without activity is useless. Personal life-styles are in question. In the Western world last year, enough grain was fed to cattle, pigs and poultry to feed the entire populations of India and China.

The average U.S. resident consumes 1,900 pounds of grain directly and indirectly each year while the average African or Asian eats only 400 pounds. At the same time, 25 per cent of all food in the U.S. is thrown away. Southern Californians can respond to the problem of world hunger by returning to a simpler life-style.

Change can be made in our diets. Limiting the amount of grain-fed beef we eat is one way to start. It is estimated that 8-10 pounds of grain are used to produce a pound of beef. A pound of chicken takes only 2.5-3 pounds of grain.

Americans are the largest consumers of "junk-foods," everything from overcooked and over frozen vegetables to breakfast cereals. Eating fresh food instead of processed foods can decrease the amounts of sugar, cocoa and other luxury crops we consume from the hungry world, and increase our health at the same time.

Life-style change can be made in energy use. Southern Californians drive recreation vehicles which get only 6-8 miles per gallon, but Indian farmers cannot afford gasoline for water pumps or petroleum fertilizers for their fields.

Cutting down on energy wastage from pool heaters to light bulbs can be a response to a world in which resources are limited. We can stop using non-renewable resources such as plastics and synthetic fibers. Where we place our investments, how we spend our recreational time, and the ways in which we earn our livings all can be seen in relation to the causes of hunger.

But giving up a pound of hamburger a week is meaningless unless we challenge the system which perpetuates poverty. Our churches and community organizations can speak out on world hunger. They can be centers for information and lifestyle changes.

Instead of sending boxes of worn-out clothing or a couple of sacks of grain to the poor, churches and community organizations can support rural agriculture development projects. One of the most important responses can be providing educational scholarships for Third World students who will become the leaders so desperately needed in developing countries.

In Upland, St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Upland First United Methodist Church and the First Presbyterian Church are involved as a cluster in various projects from holding forums and classes on relevant issues to starting a food co-operative and a Hunger Information Network. Lay people and clergy from these and other churches can provide information about ways to respond to world hunger.

Political policies of developed countries play a large role in world hunger. A decision by the U.S. government on foreign aid or military expenditures can affect the lives of millions. Concerned citizens can write to their representatives, petition their leaders, and vote for candidates who will support responsible action to solve world hunger.

Organizations such as Bread For The World (235 E. 49th St., New York, N.Y. 10017) or W.H.E.A.T. (475 Riverside Drive, Room 634, New York, N.Y. 10027) can provide information on U.S. legislation concerning world hunger.

Traditionally the U.S. people have been very generous. After World War II, the U.S. spent 2 1/2 per cent of the gross national product (GNP) to rebuild Western Europe and Japan. But today the United States spends only .23 per cent of its GNP for world development. Through political change the U.S. could become a leader in ending the hungry world.

World hunger is not an issue or movement, it is our future. As we learn its causes our personal involvement as the wealthiest and most powerful people on Earth becomes very clear.

It is not a situation of despair, but one of hope. If enough individuals and organizations catch the vision that hunger is a human problem, suffered by humans and caused by humans, they will also realize that hunger need not continue.

The situation is changeable. Lack of nutrition and the basic opportunities of life need not be reality for two-thirds of humanity. Each one of us really does matter in this world. With responses based on knowledge, reaching to our personal, community and political lives, the Earth can see the day when all of its creatures are fed, healthy and living lives of dignity. Is that vision important enough for you to become involved?

Church News Christian Fellowship

The sixth anniversary of the Upland Christian Fellowship will be noted on Thursday, May 6, when members gather at 8:30 a.m. at Griswold's for brunch. Dee Wormersley will be the speaker. She is hostess of the television show, "Woman - All That I Am," a writer, pastor's wife and mother of two daughters. She is president of Pasadena Women's Aglow Fellowship and recently was featured on the cover of Aglow Magazine. Baby-sitting will be provided for youngsters crib through kindergarten at the Claremont First Methodist Church.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made by calling 962-7033 or 624-9800.

A retreat will be held all day Saturday at Oak Glen Pines. Speaker will be Sister Margaret Mary, and a special seminary will be lead by Florence Brubaker. Flo Souza is accepting registrations until today. She may be reached by calling 982-9695 for further information.

Church of the Brethren

"The Power I" is the theme for the folk worship to be presented 10:30 a.m. Sunday at the La Verne Church of the Brethren.

The instrumental group "Dewey and the L.C.s" consisting of Craig Enberg, Randy Ewert and Howard Wolff, will present the prelude. "A Special Company," a woman's choral group sponsored by the YMCA of Greater Pomona Valley, will sing "No Man Is An Island" and "Jesus Walked This Lonesome Valley." Shirley Heckman directs the group. A vocal solo will be offered by Diane Shively.

The Chancel Choir, directed by Steve Engel with Ralph Travis, organist, will also take part in the service. Congregational singing of folk songs and spirituals will be accompanied by violins, flutes, trumpets, French horns, trombones, piano, organ, autoharp, guitars and percussion instruments. Pastor Leland Wilson will comment on the theme, concerning the power within, during the service.

Theology lecture

"God is not dead, but theology is dying" will be the theme of a 2 p.m. Wednesday presentation at California State College, San Bernardino. The speaker will be Dr. Charles Kegley, chairman of the Department of Philosophy and Religious Studies at California State, Bakersfield. The lecture, open to the public, will be in room 241 of the Library Building.
